A Time to Remember 1906 - 2006

Steeped in tradition, the clock represents A Time to Remember. The four faced clock is located high in the tower of the high school. To reach this clock, one has to ascend to the highest classroom in the school, Room 312m, located on the 3rd floor of the building. The tower is such a small room, only about 8 feet by 8 feet. In the center of this room is the clock.

The clock is eighteen inches wide and sits on a stand three feet high. Up until 1999, every eight days, someone had to travel up to this tower to wind the four-faced clock. Attached to a large weight, a steel wire was wound thirty-two times on an iron drum. Four turns wound out every day. As the drum turned, it made a long pendulum swing. Through a series of gears, the swinging pendulum made each of the four iron bars connected to the hands of each face move. A timer turned electronic bulbs on at a certain time each night and off at a certain time each morning.

Built in 1906, the clock has had to be repaired only a few times. In the late 1990s, the clock was electrified by Fairhaven resident Peter Sirois. Now, all that needs to be done is correcting for day-light savings time twice a year.

Fairhaven High School has changed its location and its look over the years. The original high school was located near where the Huttlestonian Condo Apartments are (corner of Main St. and Huttlestonian Ave.). That building has since been torn down. The new Fairhaven High School was built in 1906. An addition was built in 1931. It was connected to the main building by an underground tunnel entering what was then the gymnasium. Today, we know it as the Library Media Center. That annex was torn down to be replaced with a new building (shown above). The entire project lasted 42 months and ended in April of 1999. The new addition allowed FHS to renovate the round gym into a modern, new library and add up-to-date classroom laboratories and technology centers for compliance with the New England Association of Secondary Schools recommendations. Fairhaven High School is a truly remarkable building and will always be known for its tradition.

Over the past four years each and every one of us has created special memories amongst our own groups of friends. In that time we have merged together as a family and shared those special times with one another. Now that we have reached our senior year we can gather together those precious memories and memorialize them in the Centennial Huttlestonian with the care and devotion of the yearbook staff. It has been an honor and a pleasure to present them to you. We can only hope that we have captured a special moment for every student in the graduating class of 2006. The staff, Jessica, and I are very proud to have created an heirloom that we can look back and treasure throughout our lives.

Four years ago I embarked on a journey and on that journey I have made many friends and met many challenges. One of those challenges has been being a part of the yearbook staff. It has enriched my time at Fairhaven High and I will always be grateful for having the opportunity to share my talents and for unforgettable friendships. I bid the class of 2006 good luck and farewell. May you make your dreams come true.

Sincerely,
Chelsea Isherwood

Our Benefactor: Henry Huttleston Rogers

Fairhaven High School exists because of Henry Huttleston Rogers. The Huttlestonian staff dedicates this yearbook in honor of HHR during our 100th anniversary year. Since Fairhaven is still considered a working class town, it's interesting to note that HHR was born into a working class family. Rogers became one of the 25 all-time wealthiest individuals in United States history (according to a 1996 study). While considered ruthless in business, Rogers only became known for his numerous philanthropic activities after his death.

Fairhaven continues to enjoy the many buildings he gifted to the town, including F.H.S. HHR was in the first graduating class of the local high school which was located on the corner of Main Street and Huttleston Avenue where the Condo Apartment Building is located. This is probably why he saw the need for an institution of learning of the finest standards. The school was called "the most perfect and most beautiful U.S. high school of its day." Students of F.H.S. first entered their lovely new school building on April 11, 1906 and remained for two periods of class work. The new high school was not finished, but this was the 50th anniversary of Rogers' graduation from the old Fairhaven High School. This day had special significance for him. The school was opened on September 10, 1906 for the full school year.

Even then, HHR was aware of diversity as the following stipulation in the deed of gift reads "...in the management of which school there shall be no attempt to foster belief in the particular creed of any church or religious organization, nor to influence pupils or teachers in their relations to any particular church or religious organization and to which school admission shall never be denied to any pupil on account of race, color, or religious beliefs.

Thank you HHR. Your legacy still lives on.

2006 Advisors: Past and Present

Mrs. Cathleen Marchessault took over as advisor during our freshman year and kept us going with many fundraising activities. But, due to an addition to her family, she was unable to finish out our senior year. That is when Officer Tim Souza took over and finished the job.

Principal's Message

To the Class of 2006:

Congratulations on your accomplishments. Your graduation from FHS is really only the start of your journeys. We cannot know what the future will hold for each member of this class, but I am sure we will have our share of community leaders, loving parents, and individuals who will continue to extol the values that you have learned from your parents and from your school. Each class holds a special place in time and history. The class of 2006 will leave the Castle on the Hill as the 100th class that has attended this historic institution. I thank Henry Huttleston Rogers for his gift; I also thank the class of 2006 for its contributions to FHS and for my opportunity to have served you. May God treat you well and keep you safe.

2006 Class Officers

I would like to start off by congratulating the Class of 2006, the centennial class! After four years of learning, laughing, hardships, and many unforgettable friends and memories, it is our time to graduate. It is time to close this chapter of our lives and open up a new and exciting one.

I would also like to give some parting words. As we are going our separate ways, never forget where you came from or all the people you have met. However, don't be scared to go forward with your life and ALWAYS follow your dreams. Also, remember to always work hard but don't forget to have fun.

Thank you for these four years of memories that I will take with me forever. It has been my privilege and great pleasure to know and grow up with a class that has many differences, yet has such a tight and loving bond. I can't wait until our first reunion so I can see what everyone has done! I wish much success and achievement in all that you do.

"I hope your dreams take you... to the corners of your smiles, to the highest of your hopes, to the windows of your opportunities, and to the most special places your heart has ever known." -Carson Wrenn

Sincerely,
Kelsey Ketchum

Fairhaven High School students first entered their new school building on Wednesday, April 11, 1906 and remained for two periods of class work. The new high school was by no means finished, but this was the 50th anniversary of Mr. Rogers' graduation from the old Fairhaven High School, so the day had a special significance for him. Therefore, the pupils left their little wooden building on the site of the present Huttleston Ap'ts and entered the new building at 10 a.m. - preceded by Mr. Frank M. Marsh, the Superintendent of Schools and Mr. A.B. Kimball, the principal of the high school. Students were escorted to the large room on the southwest corner of the building which now is Room 4. There, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers received them, shook hands with each pupil, and gave each a kindly word of greeting.

After two recitation periods, school was dismissed for the day.

The first class to graduate from Mr. Rogers' new school was the Class of 1907. There were seven graduates from regular courses and one from a special course. Diplomas were facsimiles of the first diploma used at the "old high school" which Mr. Rogers attended and where he was one of the first graduates. Mr. Rogers' own diploma may be seen framed in the west corridor just outside the front door of Room 7.

Kevin Mercer

"Gee, Kevin, you're pretty awesome." -Everyone. Memories: Things about high school, what wasn't there to like, aside from some classes, and my grades... and some of the teachers (not all of them, but some of them...) but all the other stuff, all the stuff outside of school. All night videogame sessions with friends, all night nothing sessions with friends, and all kinds of other sessions. Days and nights with Dan, N8r, Jon, Chris, Aaron and everyone else I love so very much. I never believed that whole "Best years of my life" jazz, but looking back, I fear it may just be true, we'll see what the future brings. As for a quote, which I am compelled to add in here, I'll quote the Immortal Bilbo, as quoted on his eleventy-first birthday, because it applies so well to my stay at FHS "I don't know half of you half as well as I should like; and I like less than half of you half as well as you deserve."

UNDERCLASSES MEN

The first actual student body of the "new" FHS contained 155 students: 84 boys and 71 girls. There were 12 or 14 from Mattapoisett and four from Rochester.

Did you know that eighth graders came to the high school for a few years? The 1931 addition to the high school was meant for use by the eighth and ninth grades. The addition was connected by a tunnel (35 x 8 x 7), so as not to alter the architecture of the main building. Administrators didn't think they'd have enough students to fill the building, so they decided to open it up to any student in Bristol County. Out-of-town students paid a fee. FHS had an A1 rating in the educational department, so everyone wanted to come. The first year the addition was opened, the total enrollment for grades 8-12 occupying both buildings was 642, leaving just 30 vacant seats.

Class of 2007

On behalf of the class of 2007 I would like to personally congratulate the graduating seniors and wish them luck in all of their future endeavors. I also encourage the class of 2007 to build off of the success of the seniors in order to have a productive and enjoyable senior year.

Sincerely,
Steve Furtado

the class of 2008, could just like to thank all of you for making first year as class president, productive and efficient. Together we have been able to raise money and began to become a part of Fairhaven High School's wonderful history. As junior year approaches I would like to remind all of you, while we have come extremely far from our first days as freshmen to now the conclusion of our sophomore year, we still have a long way to go and our most memorable years to come.
 I hope that next year will be equally productive and continue to strengthen the impact that we have, not only on Fairhaven High School, but also on our communities of Fairhaven and Mashnet. Let our class follow the words of Nathaniel Hawthorne, "Every individual has a place to fill in the world and is important to some respect whether he chooses to be or not." and establish our place in the history of Fairhaven High School.

ear class of 2009,

has been a great freshman year! I can't believe the year has gone by so fast! And I am even more excited that we, as a class, will be able to spend the next three years together at FHS. Have an awesome summer!
Stay safe and have fun!

Your class president,
Brennan Srisirikul

Did you know that a math teacher lived in the high school? Many people know that the west side of the third floor of FHS originally included an apartment consisting of two bedrooms, a living room, dining room, kitchen, bath and some closets and pantries. Like similar apartments in Rogers School and the Town Hall, the "janitor's suite" was intended for the custodian and his family. What's not as well-known is that two children were actually born inside the high school, Robert Jr. (1930) and Barbara (1931). They were the daughter and son of a mathematics teacher, Mr. Robert C. Lawton, and his wife who occupied the apartment. Lawton taught from the 1920s to 1965. When the children would come home at night, they would have to throw a pebble at the window or holler. The mom or dad would have to throw down the key, so they could let themselves in. They were the last to live in the high school.

S Fairhaven High School has had really good sports teams over the past century. It started as far back as the 1920s with the football and track teams. The football team was led by Coach Edwin F. Pidgeon and Alvin "Dutch" Tunstall. The track team had standout Hilton "Hilt" Holland. In the 1930s the standout teams and players were J. Alfred "Al" Whitworth (track), and George Barclay (tennis/ basketball). Arthur Paquette (baseball), and Fredrick C. Burke (basketball) were the standout team players in the 1940s. Boys basketball ended their season at 25-0 and won the championship in 1950. Football led by Albert R. "Abbie" Teixeira (1950s) and baseball with Charles "Chuck" Tillet (1970s) were also dominant. During the 1960s boys and girls basketball had a great season. At that time, the rules for girls basketball changed from half court to full court, the same rules that the boys followed. The 1970s brought good sports teams in football, baseball, and boys basketball.

Baseball and boys soccer were dominate during the late 1980s. Boys soccer had just begun during the 80s with help from standout player Roy Dasilva. Fairhaven High sports teams were most dominate in the 90s. FHS was dominate in football, cheerleading, boys soccer, ice hockey, boys basketball, boys and girls track, and volleyball.

It was interesting to notice the changes in society over the last 100 years. We were surprised to read about the initiations many clubs participated in during the 1920s. Today, clubs and sports don't participate in initiations of any kind because of Chapter 665: An Act Prohibiting the Practice of Hazing.

Back in 1923, Commercial Club (a business club) seniors blindfolded the junior girls and boys and led them into the gym. Ancient eggs, five thousand years old, crocodiles straight from the Nile and angleworms, which were fine eating, all added to the fun at the initiation. Judging from the screams and laughter of the Juniors, they evidently enjoyed their tortures as much as did the Seniors, who watched them "take their medicine." After going through all the stunts, the members were seated in a circle around the center of the "gym," and each Junior had a chance to show his, or her, ability in doing a stunt, before they could remove their blindfolds. They also had to swear solemnly to live up to the Shorthand Oath:

S

"I solemnly swear,
By the hair of my head,
To each night do my Shorthand, Before going to bed.
I'll not park under lamp pots,
Or sit on a stone wall,
For the next day in Class, My Shorthand will fall."

Love, Valerie

Words cannot express how proud I am to see you graduate.
You have grown into a mature and intelligent young man. I am honored that you are my brother. Our bond was created in the many hours we spent together building forts out of pillows, swinging in the backyard, or using our childhood imaginings. Now that we are older, our relationship may have outgrown Legos and mud pies, but you will always be my best friend.

Congratulations to you, all your friends whom Leah and I adore, and to the entire Class of 2006!
You did it!!!

Love , Mom & Leah

Congratulations Megan!
May you succeed in everything that life's journey brings. May happiness always follow you in whatever you decide to do. Remember to always follow your heart and your dreams and the road to success will be yours. We will always be proud and support-

Mario,

You are our #1 star! We are so proud of who you are and all you have accomplished.

Love you forever,
Mom, Dad & Stacey

Kendra

Seems like yesterday we were off to Six Flags with your little friends...In a blink of an eye you're now graduating from high school. May all your dreams and ambitions come true. Best of luck. I'll always be there for you.
Love, Daddy

Lauren,

Congratulations!
This is a huge accomplishment!
We're very proud of you!

Love,
Mom & Dad

Shane,
If I could reach up and hold a star for every time you've made me smile, the entire evening sky would be in the palm of my hand! Let us celebrate this moment in time!
Love you more...Mom

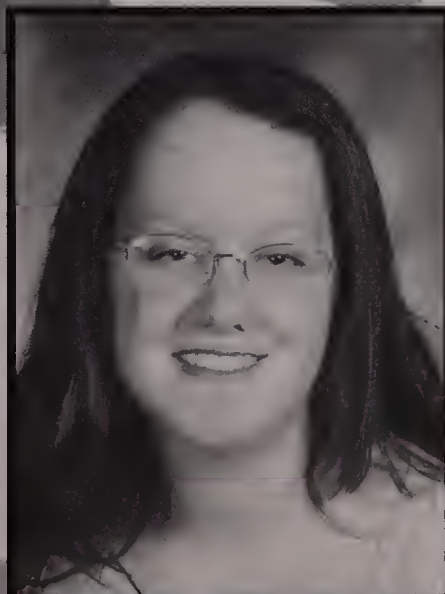

Lauren,
I'm glad to see we have overcome all of our differences throughout the years. You've grown into a beautiful young woman and I hope you accomplish all of your future goals. Good Luck in college!

Love,
Michael & Buddy

Love, The
Correia

From the day you were born you've been "Our Shining Star."
Congratulations!

Love,
Mommy, Daddy
& Dylan

Jamie,
We watched you grow into a very fine young man.
Congratulations
and we wish you the best in the future.

Love,
Mom, Dad
& Brothers

Paige, We are so proud of you for all you have achieved and overcome. The past four years have been marked with tears, laughter, hardships and growth. We have watched you find your voice and use it to stand up for things you believed in. Though the road is long ahead of you we know you will continue to walk it with your head held high. Find your dream and chase it. Reach for the Stars. "Fly Baby Fly!"

Love You, Like You,
Mom, Dad, Scotty, Alyssa, Taylor & Tessa

Way to go Mel!

8th in your class! We are so proud of your accomplishments.
Congratulations with hugs and kisses.

Love,
Mom, Dad & Tiff

Best Friends Forever

Maghan,
We are very proud of the person you have become!! We hope the future brings as much happiness for you as you have brought for us. You are our world.

Love, Mom & T-Dad

My Dearest Friends

We have been through so much these past four years and stuck together to finally reach our graduation. I congratulate each and everyone of you. I will miss you all as we go our separate ways, but we will never say goodbye.

Love always and forever, Chelsea

Jenny! We finally did it!
We made it through Holy Family, Alden Court, and now high school. Who would've thought we'd still be best friends 14 years later. congrats -Britty

Greg, Congrats!
We love you very much. Good luck in everything in the future.

Love
Mom, Dad & Kerri

We've been best friends all these years and now we're going our separate ways.

Carly,
We are so proud of you. You will do great things in life.

Love,
Mom and Dad

I don't know why you say goodbye.
I say hello.

Geno,

The day you were born, we knew you were special, but we realize now how "special" you really are; not only for saving your sister's life but for the unselfish, caring and loving person you have grown up to be. We know you have a lot to accomplish in life and will succeed in all goals you have set. We love you more with each day.

Love, Your family
